

FRIDAY, NOV. 3, 1882.

All Around The Hub.
RELATING.

If anyone can tell what benefit accrues to the human race by the recent trial of Webb to submit a given number of days in a tank we should like to know it. We have specimens of endurance in walking in a tank and in swimming, but except a gambling operation on the powers of endurance of certain men we fail to see any result to these trials. Suppose Mr. Webb can live eleven days in a tank, is that any proof that ordinary men are going to reverse the order of nature and take to living in the water? We were surprised at the intense interest excited by these efforts to accomplish what is of no use when accomplished, and can only say of Mr. Webb, that unless the experiment pays him very handsomely he is a fool for his pains.

OLD BRATTLE STREET CHURCH.
Forty years ago the church in Brattle street represented probably more of the wealth and culture of Boston than any church in Boston. Amos and Abbot Lawrence, Daniel Webster, Edward Everett, Judge Thatcher, Israel Whitney, and a host of others prominent in political and business circles could be seen there every Sunday. But times changed; the old people died out; from being the fashionable church, old Brattle street became just the reverse. The remnant of the society built very expensive church on the back bay lands, and mortgaged the building for more than its actual value. The society is scattered; their church was long sold for a fraction of its cost; and now it passes into the hands of a Baptist society, who after improving it in some particulars have opened it for worship.

COCUTTATE WATER.

There seems to be something serious in the matter with our water supply; when we had trouble a year ago it was traced to Farm pond, and it was clearly demonstrated that the original Cochituate was all right. But it is not all right; there is some unexplained trouble with that, and people are gradually coming to the conclusion that water from any pond is liable to times of impurity. Science may overcome the objections, but as there is nothing with the exception of pure air, more important to health than pure water, it is really of vital importance to the people of Boston that something shall be done to alleviate the impurity of their water supply.

FLOWERS.

Few of our readers have any conception of the business that is done in raising flowers for the fall, winter and spring. Late if has got to be to the fashion to request no flowers at funerals, the floral displays because at one time actually horrendous; still there is a very large demand for flowers at funerals, and at weddings the call for choice selections is almost unlimited. One firm which furnishes a large portion of the supply of flowers for Boston has recently built a green house covering nearly an acre of ground, and we are told that even with that addition to their previous room, they find it hard to meet the demands made upon them. Parties in Boston pay from ten to twenty dollars every week for flowers to place in their parlors, and for them they depend upon those who make the cultivation of flowers a business.

THE WARREN BENEFIT.

Fifty years ago, when Wm. Warren first appeared upon the stage, an actor was looked upon as one to be scoffed at rather than honored. Then the governor of the state, the mayor of Boston, our first merchants would not have dared to endorse a benefit to an actor. It is but a few years since the fact of having our theatres open at all on Saturday evening was strongly remonstrated against by some of our best citizens. All that is changed. Wm. Warren, who fifty years ago would not have been admitted into any society in Boston claiming to be genteel, has a benefit which is endorsed and attended on a Saturday evening by the very elite, the cream of Boston exclusives.

Odd Fellows' Anniversary.

The seventh anniversary of the organization of Wompatuck Encampment, I. O. O. F., was observed at Old Fellows' Hall last Friday evening, by a banquet and entertainment. There was a good attendance of the Patriarchs and their ladies, about 70 persons being present. The entertainment consisted of humorous sketches by Mr. John Thomas, humorist, whose滑稽 stories were exceedingly funny, especially his representations of the "Schoolboy" and "The Facial Family," which gave ample opportunity for the display of the artist's facial powers, and convulsed the audience with laughter. Mr. Wadsworth Bates contributed several lively executed comic solos, and Mr. W. E. Langford's efforts on the violin were very acceptable. An organ solo by Mr. F. H. Haywood was executed in his own excellent manner, and the accompaniments played by him during the evening were artistically rendered. After the entertainment the party repaired to the banquet hall, where an excellent banquet was served under the direction of Caterer Gardner, to which all did justice, after which the floor was cleared, and dancing was indulged in to the music of Langford's Orchestra. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all, and was a very appropriate anniversary celebration.

This New Year.

The County Commissioners were in town last Monday, and after viewing the proposed route of the new road from Commercial square to the depot, and also that from the cooper shop along the railroad, and the extension of Hill street to the same point, gave a hearing in Dexter Hall to those interested in the matter. The remonstrants against the road from Commercial square were represented by Hon. Asa French. The abutters upon either of the proposed routes were of course the most interested parties, and all had an opportunity of expressing themselves in the matter. The Commissioners had doubts as to their jurisdiction in the case, as a road had come time ago been granted to run from the cooper shop along the railroad. They however listened to the arguments for and against the different routes, but what their final decision will be remains to be seen. Public opinion, however, seems to be in favor of the road from Commercial square.

LOCAL TOPICS.

Grand Fair.
The extensive preparations which had been made by the committee of Delphi Lodge, No. 2, for the grand fair given in the new hall of the Lodge, were crowned with success. Some of the Indian savages with the Grand Army Sewing Circle have recently visited the Relief Corps in Chelsea, and express themselves as much pleased. The wives working at the institution. The wives of the soldiers have a much care for their sickness as the soldiers themselves, and as this is the prime object of the Relief Corps, it is hoped that an organization for their benefit may be established.

The Grand Army Sewing Circle has commenced operations in the coming fair, which will be held for the next month, and will be a camp scene entitled "Camp Lovell."

On the donation table was a toilet set given by James Lovell, a large gun cushion, the name of plus to be guessed; guess sake, Mr. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth, a pair of custom made hand-sewn boots, from Bro. Inkley, of Lovell's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Avis Smith; and another dress by Miss Alice Norton; a hat, a fine pair of customs made hand-sewn boots, from Bro. Inkley, of Lovell's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Avis Smith; and another dress by Miss Alice Norton;

the meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Bent made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers resounding as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music. The General was introduced to the audience by president Hart, and spoke at great length, but his limits would not permit of a full account of his remarks. Before his arrival J. A. Coffey, Esq., was called upon for an address, to which he responded in graceful and effective manner.

Uses Tomomore.

Simmons & Mower's late of the Wilkins' Uncle Tom Cabin Combination will appear at Music Hall, South Weymouth, on Monday evening, Nov. 6th, presenting their new version of Uncle Tom's Cabin, new accuracy, introducing Jubilee singers, genuine bloodhounds and trick donkey Tarnay. This is the only first class company who are playing at people's popular price.

Smith having a busy time in dealing out the cream to the throng of purchasers. A novel and pleasing feature of the fair was "The Old Woman in a Shoe," represented by a little child of Frank Brown, dressed in appropriate costume.

Nomination.

At the County Convention held in Dedham Wednesday to nominate a candidate for County Commissioner, in place of Hon. Jas. Humphrey, resigned, on the informal ballot, John Q. A. Field, Esq., of Quincy, received 40 votes out of the 63 cast, and on motion his nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Field has served as Special Commissioner, and will make an excellent County official.

Notes from "Fero."

The fire seen in the south at 10 p.m. Saturday, was the splendid residence of the Rev. Mr. Wright, Centro Abington, formerly owned by Mr. Fred E. Haas, carpenter, west at Abington, which he well deserved, his performance being exceedingly fine. Miss Lizzie Hunt, violin solo, Mrs. A. W. Allen, and Mr. Lincoln, furnished excellent vocal music, with piano duet by Miss Lizzie Hunt and Mr. Lewis Tilden.

The air gun shooting contest ended with Mr. Warren White taking the prize, having made 40 bull's-eyes. J. R. Walld made 35, Warren Toodle 32, Willard 18.

The fair this evening with drawing of prizes and an old fashioned supper.

Assort.

Mrs. Charles Tilley, while driving down Washington street between the Town House and the residence of the late David Richards, last week, was accosted by some kindly party, who requested her to stop, but the respect not being heeded to throw stones at the carriage, which frightened the horse into a run, but no damage ensued, as we are informed.

Excursion.

Messrs. Henry Newton, E. S. Beals, Sam'l Cleverly, J. B. Drew, Chas. Simmonds, Frank B. Bates, also widow Dean Randal, went to Randall Cottage, Stoney Beach, Thursday of last week and from thence to the Center House, where nine hosts, Zena Loring with Mrs. Sprague, provided an excellent cool stew and other refreshments for the party. The annual game of horseshoe throwing was indulged in by the "retired," and they declare that all hit the best.

Mr. Wadsworth Bates contributed several lively executed comic solos, and Mr. W. E. Langford's efforts on the violin were very acceptable. An organ solo by Mr. F. H. Haywood was executed in his own excellent manner, and the accompaniments played by him during the evening were artistically rendered. After the entertainment the party repaired to the banquet hall, where an excellent banquet was served under the direction of Caterer Gardner, to which all did justice, after which the floor was cleared, and dancing was indulged in to the music of Langford's Orchestra. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all, and was a very appropriate anniversary celebration.

Odd Fellows' Anniversary.

The seventh anniversary of the organization of Wompatuck Encampment, I. O. O. F., was observed at Old Fellows' Hall last Friday evening, by a banquet and entertainment. There was a good attendance of the Patriarchs and their ladies, about 70 persons being present. The entertainment consisted of humorous sketches by Mr. John Thomas, humorist, whose滑稽 stories were exceedingly funny, especially his representations of the "Schoolboy" and "The Facial Family," which gave ample opportunity for the display of the artist's facial powers, and convulsed the audience with laughter. Mr. Wadsworth Bates contributed several lively executed comic solos, and Mr. W. E. Langford's efforts on the violin were very acceptable. An organ solo by Mr. F. H. Haywood was executed in his own excellent manner, and the accompaniments played by him during the evening were artistically rendered. After the entertainment the party repaired to the banquet hall, where an excellent banquet was served under the direction of Caterer Gardner, to which all did justice, after which the floor was cleared, and dancing was indulged in to the music of Langford's Orchestra. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all, and was a very appropriate anniversary celebration.

This New Year.

The County Commissioners were in town last Monday, and after viewing the proposed route of the new road from Commercial square to the depot, and also that from the cooper shop along the railroad, and the extension of Hill street to the same point, gave a hearing in Dexter Hall to those interested in the matter. The Commissioners had doubts as to their jurisdiction in the case, as a road had come time ago been granted to run from the cooper shop along the railroad. They however listened to the arguments for and against the different routes, but what their final decision will be remains to be seen. Public opinion, however, seems to be in favor of the road from Commercial square.

G. A. B. Rose.

The subject of the establishment of a Ladies' Relief Corp in connection with Reynolds Post is again being agitated, and it is expected that it will with success. Some of the Indian savages with the Grand Army Sewing Circle have recently visited the Relief Corps in Chelsea, and express themselves as much pleased. The wives working at the institution. The wives of the soldiers have a much care for their sickness as the soldiers themselves, and as this is the prime object of the Relief Corps, it is hoped that an organization for their benefit may be established.

The Grand Army Sewing Circle has commenced operations in the coming fair, which will be held for the next month, and will be a camp scene entitled "Camp Lovell."

On the donation table was a toilet set given by James Lovell, a large gun cushion, the name of plus to be guessed; guess sake, Mr. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth, a pair of customs made hand-sewn boots, from Bro. Inkley, of Lovell's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Avis Smith; and another dress by Miss Alice Norton;

the meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Bent made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers resounding as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music. The General was introduced to the audience by president Hart, and spoke at great length, but his limits would not permit of a full account of his remarks. Before his arrival J. A. Coffey, Esq., was called upon for an address, to which he responded in graceful and effective manner.

Democracy Rally.

A grand rally of the Democrats of Weymouth was held at the town hall last evening, and the announcement that Gen'l Butler would speak at the meeting drew an audience of about 1000 people, who heard the general in a most enthusiastic manner.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Bent made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers resounding as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music. The General was introduced to the audience by president Hart, and spoke at great length, but his limits would not permit of a full account of his remarks. Before his arrival J. A. Coffey, Esq., was called upon for an address, to which he responded in graceful and effective manner.

Use Tomomore.

Simmons & Mower's late of the Wilkins' Uncle Tom Cabin Combination will appear at Music Hall, South Weymouth, on Monday evening, Nov. 6th, presenting their new version of Uncle Tom's Cabin, new accuracy, introducing Jubilee singers, genuine bloodhounds and trick donkey Tarnay. This is the only first class company who are playing at people's popular price.

Smith having a busy time in dealing out the cream to the throng of purchasers. A novel and pleasing feature of the fair was "The Old Woman in a Shoe," represented by a little child of Frank Brown, dressed in appropriate costume.

Nomination.

At the County Convention held in Dedham Wednesday to nominate a candidate for County Commissioner, in place of Hon. Jas. Humphrey, resigned, on the informal ballot, John Q. A. Field, Esq., of Quincy, received 40 votes out of the 63 cast, and on motion his nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Field has served as Special Commissioner, and will make an excellent County official.

Notes from "Fero."

The fire seen in the south at 10 p.m. Saturday, was the splendid residence of the Rev. Mr. Wright, Centro Abington, formerly owned by Mr. Fred E. Haas, carpenter, west at Abington, which he well deserved, his performance being exceedingly fine. Miss Lizzie Hunt, violin solo, Mrs. A. W. Allen, and Mr. Lincoln, furnished excellent vocal music, with piano duet by Miss Lizzie Hunt and Mr. Lewis Tilden.

The air gun shooting contest ended with Mr. Warren White taking the prize, having made 40 bull's-eyes. J. R. Walld made 35, Warren Toodle 32, Willard 18.

The fair this evening with drawing of prizes and an old fashioned supper.

Assort.

Mrs. Charles Tilley, while driving down Washington street between the Town House and the residence of the late David Richards, last week, was accosted by some kindly party, who requested her to stop, but the respect not being heeded to throw stones at the carriage, which frightened the horse into a run, but no damage ensued, as we are informed.

Excursion.

Messrs. Henry Newton, E. S. Beals, Sam'l Cleverly, J. B. Drew, Chas. Simmonds, Frank B. Bates, also widow Dean Randal, went to Randall Cottage, Stoney Beach, Thursday of last week and from thence to the Center House, where nine hosts, Zena Loring with Mrs. Sprague, provided an excellent cool stew and other refreshments for the party. The annual game of horseshoe throwing was indulged in by the "retired," and they declare that all hit the best.

Mr. Wadsworth Bates contributed several lively executed comic solos, and Mr. W. E. Langford's efforts on the violin were very acceptable. An organ solo by Mr. F. H. Haywood was executed in his own excellent manner, and the accompaniments played by him during the evening were artistically rendered. After the entertainment the party repaired to the banquet hall, where an excellent banquet was served under the direction of Caterer Gardner, to which all did justice, after which the floor was cleared, and dancing was indulged in to the music of Langford's Orchestra. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all, and was a very appropriate anniversary celebration.

This New Year.

The County Commissioners were in town last Monday, and after viewing the proposed route of the new road from Commercial square to the depot, and also that from the cooper shop along the railroad, and the extension of Hill street to the same point, gave a hearing in Dexter Hall to those interested in the matter. The Commissioners had doubts as to their jurisdiction in the case, as a road had come time ago been granted to run from the cooper shop along the railroad. They however listened to the arguments for and against the different routes, but what their final decision will be remains to be seen. Public opinion, however, seems to be in favor of the road from Commercial square.

EAST WEYMOUTH.

A fence is needed along the sidewalk bordering the reservoir on Commercial street, as the willows have been trimmed leaving openings large enough for persons to walk through into the water where it is four or five feet deep. The selection should attend to the matter.

Mrs. Priscilla Ilmonard reports that she had a narrow escape from being run over by the cars, Tuesday morning, while she was walking through the ledge west of the depot. The cars were but a few feet from her when she stepped off the track.

Mr. Robert F. Shaw is received an order for a large lot of his Patent Brociers, to be sent to Portugal.

Mr. Chase II, Pfefferman has in his possession some valuable coins, among them a shekel. In his collection are seven coins of different dates, the earliest ones bearing dates of 1008 and 1037. Mr. P. has been offered a large sum for these coins, but refuses to part with them at present.

Mr. Albert Burrell has removed to the Quincy Hotel, to take place of the coming of Sometime, Mr. Bedford, of Sometime, corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Avis Smith; and another dress by Miss Alice Norton;

the annual fair of Paul Revere Post is announced to take place in the Quincy Hotel, to be held on Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22. An entertainment is to be given each evening by the "good of the outer," among them being a handsome marine painting, presented by Dr. H. Bassey, and which was his own work, also a nice harness by John M. Walsh; New Item sewing machine by Mr. A. T. Cushing; handsome revolver by Col. B. S. Lovell; another revolver by brother of Sometime, Mr. Bedford, this revolver being put up as a prize for the best shot with the air-guns; air-guns from the house of John T. Lovell & Son.

On the donation table was a toilet set given by James Lovell, a large gun cushion, the name of plus to be guessed; guess sake, Mr. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth, a pair of customs made hand-sewn boots, from Bro. Inkley, of Lovell's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Avis Smith; and another dress by Miss Alice Norton;

the annual fair of Paul Revere Post is announced to take place in the Quincy Hotel, to be held on Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22. An entertainment is to be given each evening by the "good of the outer," among them being a handsome marine painting, presented by Dr. H. Bassey, and which was his own work, also a nice harness by John M. Walsh; New Item sewing machine by Mr. A. T. Cushing; handsome revolver by Col. B. S. Lovell; another revolver by brother of Sometime, Mr. Bedford, this revolver being put up as a prize for the best shot with the air-guns; air-guns from the house of John T. Lovell & Son.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

The "Harvest Festival" of the Union church last Saturday afternoon, over the remains of Mrs. Margaret Macfarlane Chapin, wife of Rev. F. P. Chapin, pastor of the church. Mrs. Chapin had long been a sufferer with the disease which terminates life while she was in the prime of her years, her age being 40 years, 7 months and 3 days. An active and heroic worker in all philanthropic work, she lived for the good of others, self being entirely put aside in their endeavor to benefit mankind. Early in life she became a missionary to remote and inhospitable climes, and the name self-sacrifice spirit continued to the last hours of life. In strict keeping with the character of the festival, the offering of goods to the needy and destitute spoke much for the interest and taste of the contributors. In the center rested a long table spread with all the

POTS.

partment of FANCY
POTS, SKETS,
s & Hooks.

American Medicinal ITION FOOD.

MPANY,
youth Landing.

EIVED, TMENT OF
omforters,
EELS.
dren's Underwear,

LINE OF Cloths,
ND UPWARD.

SMITH,
South Weymouth.

r's Friend.

IF Solder Lead Water.
NDS of CLOTHING.

ONLY BY

Weymouth, Mass.

ENTREPRENEUR.

Don't have it, ask him to get it, and take no other.

INTERFERS.

HT SHOP.

to announce to the
th and vicinity that I erly occupied by Waldo

D REPAIRING OF AGES,
the work of all who onage, in a satisfactory le prices.

TURNER.

Extra Quality
CUSTOM SUITS

all Line of ching Goods, AR'S.,

- Weymouth,

WDITCH,

CK STORE, ON SQUARE,

ods and Groceries,

TURE, &c.

as low as the LOWEST.

Free of Charge and Satisfied.

Wash.

Guaranteed.

JAMES PYLE'S
PEARLINE
THE BEST THING KNOWN
WASHING AND BLEACHING

IN HARD OR SOFT, NOT OR COLD WATER.

SAVES LAIR, TIME AND SOAP AMAZ-

INGLY, and gives universal satisfaction.

No family, rich or poor, abounds with such a saving as PEARLINE.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and the best of all

BLEACHING.

It is safe, and

FRIDAY, NOV. 10, 1882

All Around The Hub.

We often hear the remark that lawyers must, from the very nature of their business, frequently advocate what they know to be wrong, and consequently that a lawyer cannot be honest and successful. It has always been a matter of wonder to us how a man can plead a case against his own convictions, and yet some of the most brilliant efforts have been made by lawyers when defending persons whom they knew were guilty. It is related of Rufus Choate that when called upon to undertake the defense of Professor Webster, he declined to do so unless Webster would tell him the truth in regard to the affair. He was satisfied that Webster did kill Dr. Parkman, but if he could not have been open with the great lawyer, Choate would have sought upon the jury that no verdict of guilty or murder would have been rendered. It is a pretty nice question to decide how much a man is justified in defending for money and attempting to clear from punishment a person he is convinced is guilty in a civil suit to the part of the wronger against the wronged. We don't believe that lawyers as a class are any less honest than any other class of men, but they must, in order to be successful, accept fees in cases which they might not end in win.

THE GREAT FIRE.

Yesterday was the tenth anniversary of the great fire which on the night of November 9th, 1872, destroyed most of the business portion of Boston. The loss was estimated at nearly one hundred millions of dollars. Nearly every firm engaged in the wholesale boot and shoe and the dry goods business lost not only their stores but all their stocks. Ten years ago this morning Boston presented a sorry appearance. Nearly the whole district from Summer street to State street and from Washington street to the harbor was covered with a mass of smoking ruins, and the lines of every street in the district were entirely obliterated. The origin of the fire was never certainly known, and it will forever remain a mystery why caused it to spread so rapidly and in every direction. There were rumors that when the flames had gained such headway that the fire department had not the least control over them, fires were purposely set, but that is not at all probable. The streets were narrow and the flames literally leaped across them. Every insurance company in the city was ruined, and hosts of people who were comfortably off at six o'clock on Saturday evening, who owned not a dollar's worth of property in the burned district, were penniless before six o'clock Sunday morning, for they held insurance stock which was entirely wiped out. Assistance was promptly offered from all over the country, but the people of Boston with what some regarded as almost foolish independence, declined to accept any.

There must have been an immense amount of individual suffering, and, as we have said, many were made poor by the failure of the insurance companies, but the fire proved an actual benefit to the city and to its business. The narrow, crooked streets were straightened and widened, and the new buildings both in appearance and convenience were vastly superior to those that were destroyed. One cannot realize today that ten years ago at least nine-tenths of the business firms in Boston had no goods to sell and no place to sell any. One thing was noted as greatly to the credit of Boston merchants, that though the losses by the fire amounted to nearly one hundred millions and that much of the insurance was worthless, very few failures were reported, and we doubt if a single firm took advantage of the fire to evade paying their debts.

THE THEATRES.

With our two theatre trains a week, Tuesday and Friday nights, and the afternoon performances on Wednesday and Saturday, many readers along the shore are interested in being informed as to what is going on at the various theatres.

At the Boston Museum the season has opened with the production of the Romany Rye. The title is of itself a puzzler. The plot from the commencement to the end is of absorbing interest; the scenery, painted expressly for this play, is superbly good, and many of the situations have never been equalled in dramatic or scenic effect in this country.

Entertainment.

The monologue entertainment given by Miss Helen Potter at the Union church, last Friday evening, attracted a large audience, nearly every seat in the house being occupied. Miss Potter's impersonations of different public speakers were surprisingly accurate, the well known spoofs of temperance, John B. Gough, in particular, being depicted to the life, and one of his addresses was given as none but Gough can present it. The coat, vest, hat, and gloves were Gough's in likeness, and the great temperature oration was well completed. Miss Potter's readings were given with great skill, and her comic entertainment was received with the liveliest applause. The plot of a musical entertainment by home talent was also a source of pleasure to the audience, who generously applauded the performers. It consisted of a Grand March, on the organ, by Mr. Frank O. Nash, the Flower Song, from Faust, by Miss Jessie Howe, and Millard's "Ave Maria," by Miss Fannie W. Sprague, with tenor obligato, by Mr. A. E. Vining.

G. A. Fair.

It is proposed to make the coming Grand Army Fair the largest and most successful ever held in this state, and to that end the efforts of all interested are being directed. The event occurs next May, and it is proposed to hold the fair ten days. Of course everybody will lend a helping hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sherman started on their southern trip Thursday morning. A large number of friends were at the depot to see them off, and bade them bon voyage.

The entire vote of the State for Governor was for Butler, 132,078; Bishop, 119,020; Almy, 1,760; Ames, for Lincoln. Governor has a plurality of 15,131.

A Virtual Performance.

Many wonder how Parker's tinsel Theatre can perform such varied scenes, thinking it consists of gingers, when in fact it is made from many valuable medicines which act beneficially on every diseased organ.

LOCAL TOPICS.

THE ELECTION.

To the surprise of many voters, the election of last Tuesday was走 over for Gen'l H. F. Butler, who was chosen as Governor of the Commonwealth by a plurality of 13,131, the rest of the officials chosen being Republicans. From this overturn it is evident that the vote of the people was due to an unpopular candidate being put up by the Republican party, more than to popular opposition to its principles, the result being in New York—where multitudes of Republicans voted the Democratic ticket.

Another surprise is the result of the Representative election in the 5th Norfolk district, Quincy having secured the three representatives to the General Court. We have not had time to analyze the vote to ascertain the reasons underlying this unexpected result. It is a matter of much comment and dissatisfaction in Weymouth. The friends of Messrs. Cushing and Blackwell worked zealously in their interests, but whether their defeat is due to "scratching" in Quincy, as some assert, or un honest sequence of the ballot, is yet unknown to us. The large and important town of Weymouth must, however, take its representation second-hand this year, to the mutual disgust of its citizens.

Another surprised party was Col. Benj. S. Lovell, of Weymouth, the Republican candidate for Senator, who had at the slightest suspicion that ten hundred and sixty-one of the voters of Weymouth would cast their ballot in his favor, carrying him a long ways ahead of the general ticket. As in the case of Gen'l Butler, personal popularity accomplished the result, and, of course the popular Colonel is highly gratified with this expression of friend ship.

The ballot in this town for the various candidates is given below.

GOVERNOR.—Robert H. Bishop, 755; Benjamin F. Butler, of Lowell, 911; Class Almy, of New Bedford, 53.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR.—Oliver Ames, of Easton, 817; Samuel Johnson, of Springfield, 856; John Blachester, of Springfield, 51; George F. Dyer, 282; S. C. Tracy, of Easton.

STATE CONVENTIONALITY.—Henry D. Pierce, of Abington, 820; David N. Shattuck, of Weymouth, 340; Solomon P. Bent, of Douglas, 50; John Howes, of Weymouth, 21.

REDACTOR AND RECEIVER GENERAL.—Daniel A. Gleason, of Melrose, 829; William A. Hodges, of Quincy, 849; Thos. J. Lathrop, of Taunton, 50; Geo. Foster, of Lynn, 33.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.—Edgar F. Verry, of Worcester, 844; Samuel M. Fairchild, of Melrose, 51; Elmer A. Snow, of Athol, 29.

COUNCIL.—Nathaniel Wales, of Stoughton, 822; Henry Gardner, of Braintree, 201; Peter Butler, of Quincy, 862; Thos. A. Smith, of Westboro, 51.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS.—John C. Burroughs, of Melrose, 829; William A. Hodges, of Quincy, 849; Thos. J. Lathrop, of Taunton, 50; Geo. Foster, of Lynn, 33.

ATTORNEY.—Charles R. Ladd, of Springfield, 827; John Sweeney, of Lawrence, 522; Jonathan Buck, of Harwich, 50; Augustus L. Merchant, of Leverett, 29.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.—Edgar F. Verry, of Worcester, 844; Samuel M. Fairchild, of Melrose, 51; Elmer A. Snow, of Athol, 29.

SENATOR.—Benjamin S. Lovell, of Weymouth, 1661; Abijah U. Drinker, of Braintree, 509; Charles E. Pratt, of Raynham, 20.

COUNTY TREASURER.—Chauncey C. Thurber, of Dedham, 811; Gen'l E. Gould, of Rockland, 821; George P. Williams, of Weymouth, 1,000.

REGISTRAR OF DEEDS.—Everett C. Rumpon, of Weymouth, 847; John F. Shimmon, of Hull, 707; Seaman, 707.

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

REGISTRY CLERK.—(3 years) James T. Talbot, of Stoughton, 822; James Mackintosh, of Neponset, 883; Joshua H. Barnes, of Walpole, 51. (To fill vacancy.)

PARK AND WOONSOOK.

INTERESTING TO FARMERS.

On very many here are some poor species of ground which will not be greatly benefited by a top dressing of manure at this season to be washed away by the rain and water run-off and melting snow. One of the best means for this purpose can be found around the clods or in the hayards.

In favor of farming it may be truly said that a greater proportion of those who begin working on a farm rise to competence and moderate wealth than in any other occupation. This is due to low but they usually begin inland, while the temptations to dissipation in the rural districts are much less than in cities.

A distinguished should be in every locality. It may be well few feet square, according to the number of buildings there are, but a good and paved road. A bush of dry ashes should be put under this, and it will soon be seen how much the fowls appreciate it. No fowl will thrive if covered with ashes, and they should always be kept clean. Dry ashes should be used; wet material is no good.

Corn given to fowls should be parched and soaked in water; this helps digestion. Hence no fowl will lay in winter that would not fowl in summer. If fowls are fed in winter with bones, dried fine, they will lay more eggs and live longer, especially as at any season of the year. The bones supply the carbonate of lime which is necessary for the production of the shell and a part of the yolk of the egg. Egg shells, chalk and limestone lime will be found to answer a similar purpose.

All such constantly represented as poor man's land, Florida is the last but the state to which a small capital could go. He cannot live upon the land till the orange trees bear. If he goes into business he must first take a county and town license. If he works as a laborer, he will be allowed to do so, and his wife will not have to pay taxes. All men and women will work for himself and others at the same time. He must live on scanty fare in an unhealthy climate, and must be subjected to squalorities that might not be endured and dare not repeat. His wife will be a spinster, and children, his life, and the lives of his family, will for many years be burdened by anxiety and care such as he would not know elsewhere. There are plenty of people ready to tell him this. Different Land agencies say their lands are good, but when he has land, will sell, we are sure, of the honesty of the several companies and of the pamphlets published by them. These men have the utmost faith in public credibility. One of them says white and black "have good fertilizing qualities," and elsewhere he asserts that the poorest lands need no fertilizing.

Care of Tools.

The wearing out of farm implements is, as a rule, due more to neglect than to use. If tools can be well taken care of, it will pay to buy those made of the best steel, and finished in the best manner; but to obtain better tools, and with economy can only be obtained by the purchase of old tools.

Wood should be painted with oil varnish, and steel parts should be cleaned with dry sand and a cloth, or scraped if necessary, and in a day or two cleaned off with the corn-cob and dry.

Fence posts should be painted in the proportion of four to one, to one, mixed together and applied hot. Wood should be painted with good boiled linseed oil, white lead and turpentine, colors of any desired tint. Boiled oil will not wash off, and if it does, it will answer instead of paint. Many prefer to satiate the wood work of farm implements with crude petroleum.—Agricultural Record.

About Roots.

While fruit growers are aware now that the roots of trees and plants extend far into the soil, it is difficult to know what to do from the old method of spreading about the trunk, training that somehow or other this fertilizer will be appropriated, and fearing that if spread around it may some way become lost.

There must be four things behind a successful temperance movement in a community: An aroused conscience organization; a tremendous amount of energy, enthusiasm, and tact; to be turned up, to come together to keep at it, to pay out your money—these four things mean business that will be profitable.

So long as men and women are weak, failing with old age, and failing with infirmities, and however, in the proportion of four to one, to one, mixed together and applied hot, the root will be trained to min.

To be turned up, to come together to keep at it, to pay out your money—these four things mean business that will be profitable.

Liquor is not prohibited in the jury room, and the law is not well known. It is likely to be adopted in all the states if recent scuffles of the jury room are repeated.

The free use of intoxicating beverages by a jury at Washington seems to have been general, and the result was that the jury was deadlocked, and had to be sent to the grand jury.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

He said that the temperance cause had been universalized, and that the people of England were now more temperate than ever before.

John Taylor, a London banker, spoke of progress of English temperance in his speech at the opening of the new parliament.

Weymouth Gazette, BRAINTREE REPORTER.

VOL. XVI.

WEYMOUTH, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1882.

NO. 29.

The Weymouth Gazette, PUBLISHED BY
C. G. EASTERBROOK,
EVERY FRIDAY, AT WYMEOUTH, MASS.

Quincy Dye-House,
And Steam Laundry.
Having stood up a Dry House in the most convenient part of the town, we are prepared to do all kinds of Dyeing, Bleaching, Finishing, etc., & also to wash and dry every kind of laundry, and to make every article of clothing as clean as possible. We have a large steam laundry, which is always in full operation, and is especially adapted to the wants of the public.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.</div

FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 1882.

All Around The Hub.

POLITICS LOVE-FAEST.

The Republican-Democratic-Prohibition-Greenback-Woman Suffrage-Labor Reform gathering at North Easton last Tuesday evening, in response to the invitation of Lieutenant Governor elect Oliver Ames, issued by his friends in the Second Congressional District, was in the words of the chairman, A. Gilmore, Esq., a "royal good time," and the appearance of orators of every political stripe upon the platform, addressing a large company of voters of all shades of opinion in most happy and hilarious manner, in which shrill thursts of humor were given and taken, with peculiar relish to the audience, produced one of the most singular and interesting occasions of a political aspect which it has ever been our fortune to attend.

One grand outcrop of this gathering, we believe, was the complete vindication of the character of the elder Ames from the aspersions and slanders with which he was assailed on account of his connection with the Union Pacific railroad, in which he had made large investments of his fortunes, from the conviction that this transcontinental monument to his memory would so old in binding the sections of the country together that, south, east and west, would in the future have no sectional significance. To his integrity of purpose and honesty of character the speakers of all parties bore testimony Tuesday evening, and in this particular the orator was one of marked interest and proflif. That the Ames family are worthy sons of worthy sires, the town of Easton bears witness, not only in its beautiful Memorial Hall and Public Library, donated to the town by the generosity of the family, but in the great industry which has carried the family name to the remotest corners of the earth. Their enterprise and generous dealing with labor has made the place what might well be termed a paradise for workmen, and that another Ames should be called to seats of power and responsibility in the state and nation, is but a natural result of worthy life and action.

The towns comprising the 2d Congressional District were all largely represented at the gathering and when the train arrived at the station the North Easton Band headed a long procession, and a march was made to the elegant residence of Hon. Oliver Ames, the grounds of which were brilliantly illuminated with lanterns and torches. After a reception at the residence, where Gen. Butler, Gov. Long, and other prominent state officials were present, the guests repaired to the Oakes Ames Memorial Hall, where dinner, dancing, and a march were made to the hall.

After dinner, the entertainment consisted of a grand ballroom dance, followed by a supper, and the band again took the stage.

At half past eight the company gathered in the upper hall, fell into line, and to the music of Stetson's orchestra, marched down into the inner hall where a beautiful supper was awaiting them, consisting of baked beans, Indian pudding, brown and white bread, cheese, pie, and tea and coffee. Upon the table on the platform was a roasted pig.

President Hovey in a very few words invited the company to partake of what was before them, which they did with a roil. Plates were laid for four hundred and we believe every seat at the table was occupied.

After all had eaten as much as they wanted, Mr. Hovey announced as the next thing upon the programme the hearing of essays, etc., from members of his class in Agriculture who had been under his instruction for about two years. His remarks were very humorous and elicited much amusement. He first called upon John D. Long, who responded by reading a boy's composition as a boy. His essay was full of local and personal hits, which were received with roars of laughter. Fearing that it would be lost, Marshall H. Cushing gave some extracts from his Agricultural primer; J. E. Thomas gave some very interesting and of course valuable information as to the antiquity of the potato lung; Henry Stephenson let in some light on Mr. Hovey's career as an agriculturist and his positive in forming the minds of young men from the soil. Linscott, who was unable to attend on account of sickness, and then, after receiving a diploma from his teacher, E. Leavitt Howard delivered diploma to his classmates. No one who was not present will be sorry to learn that the general and unanimous consent to the selection of "purple" - Most half past ten those who desired returned to the upper hall and indulged in dancing until nine o'clock. Taking it all in all the entertainment was one of the most enjoyable and successful ever given by the Hingham Agricultural and Horticultural society.

Cemetery Fair.

The ladies connected with the Village Cemetery Sewing Circle are actively engaged in preparing articles for the approaching fair to be held in aid of the fund for improvement of the Cemetery grounds. A large number of ladies were present at the regular meeting held in the engine hall. Ward S. has Wednesday afternoon, and at the meeting on Wednesday next, at the same place, full arrangements of appointing emmunities for the fair, etc., will be made, and all interested are requested to be present.

Methodes Socialite.

A large crowd was in attendance at the social held by the Methodists at their hall, East Braintree, on Wednesday evening, more than could conveniently accommodate. It consisted of an entertainment and sale of fancy articles for the purpose of raising money to defray expenses. Twenty one dollars was taken at the door and articles sold brought the total sum up to sixty dollars. The entertainment consisted of readings and songs as follows: Song, Helen and Emma Allen; reading, Mrs. Lord; Song, Little Miller; reading, Little Clark; Song, Little Queen; reading, Mrs. Dafford; song, August Hindon; reading, Miss S. Clapp; Mr. W. H. Clapp; Mr. J. Loring, Mrs. Carrie Loring, Mr. Wan, Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hayden.

Thanksgiving.

The Governor has appointed the day for our annual Thanksgiving Festival, the 30th inst., and Hunt & Co., have laid in a large stock of turkeys, in order that their friends may "eat and be merry" on that auspicious day. Read the advertisement and note it.

Mother should Know It.

Fruitful bairns cannot help disturbing everybody, and mothers should know how to manage Parker's Great Toddy. It helps babies to sleep, relieves anxiety, relieves their own anxiety and is safe to use.

LOCAL TOPICS.

PRESENTATION.

At the Suffolk County G. A. Fair one of the articles offered for sale was a handsome case with a carved head of Gen. Butler's pipe, the production of a veteran at the Togus Soldier's Home, in Maine. The case was purchased by Mr. Long and presented to Col. B. S. Lovell, of this town, as a mark of esteem, and the gift is of course highly valued by the Colonel, who, though he may not be called to a place on Gov. Butler's staff, will have a staff of his own in the future.

The Parish.

Rev. John Crane preached in the Baptist church last Sunday, presenting a very acceptable discourse and which was well delivered. Mr. Crane has made very decided progress in his calling since his connection with the Theological Seminary, and it would not be surprising if he should some fine day be called upon to fill the office of pastor here. At the close of his sermon he read a letter from the pastor of the church, Rev. P. A. Norell, resigning his charge, to take effect the last Sunday of the present month. Mr. Norell is an able preacher, and the church in New London, Ct., to which he has been called, will secure a pastor who will give them excellent service.

Surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo H. Loud were surprised at their residence on Front street last evening, by a large party of friends and neighbors, who had assembled to congratulate the couple on the 31st anniversary of their marriage. Several handsome presents were bestowed by the party, the presentation address being made by Mrs. Carrie E. Loring, of East Braintree, who was responded to in heartfelt manner by Mr. Loud. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, and fruit were served to the visitors, and the occasion was one of much pleasure to all present. The gifts comprised a glass fruit dish by Mrs. L. M. Pratt, tea pot by Mr. J. E. Thomas, and an elegant silver cake basket and silver spoons, the basket and spoons being the gifts of the following friends:

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pease, Wm. Wallace, G. C. Nichols, A. P. Nash, J. E. Hunt, H. L. Hunt, E. A. and W. W. Deane, H. H. Loud, Mrs. F. Niles, A. T. Curtis, Miss S. Clapp, Mr. W. H. Clapp, Mr. J. Loring, Mrs. Carrie Loring, Mr. Wan, Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hayden.

Memorial Day.

At the annual meeting of the Union Church last Friday evening, the vestry voted to appropriate $1000 for the erection of a granite monument to the memory of the late Rev. Dr. George Loring, who died in 1865.

The monument will be erected in the rear of the church, and will be a fitting memorial to the man who did so much for the welfare of the town.

The monument will be a granite obelisk, about 15 feet high, and will bear the inscription:

"REV. DR. GEORGE LORING, 1803-1865."

The granite will be obtained from the granite quarries of Vermont.

The granite will be polished and the inscription will be in relief.

The granite will be inscribed with the name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

The granite will be inscribed with the

name of the donor, and the date of

erection.

Goods.

IVING TRADE A CHOICE SUPPLY
E THE PUBLIC TO A CAREFUL COMPARISON OF PRICES.

ncy Seedless Raisins, 18c per lb
Dhecia Layer," 20c
Leghorn Cliron, 20c
rs. Pigs, Dates,
Sweet Marjoram.
sses.
75 cents per gallon.
70 " "
60 " "
45 " "
60 and 45 " jar.
F-RAISING
38 cents, 3 lb. papers, 21c.
36 cents.

PPY OF GOODS,
R, MACKEREL, SALMON. ork, Sausage, Hams and Also, Celery and a full stable.

OMPANY, eymouth Landing.

CEIVED, RTMENT OF
omforters,
NELS,
dren's Underwear,
LINE OF Cloths,
ND UPWARD.

SMITH,
South Weymouth.

ARTLETT,
TH Weymouth.
EST AND MOST VARIED STOCKS IT, CONSISTING OF
ockery, Glass and Wooden Ware,
roceries,
Patent Medicines,
c. &c., rest Prices.
TO CALL.

r's Friend.

NS' S
S. Soaper Hat
Wear.
nds of CLOTHING.
ONLY BY
h Weymouth, Mass.
announces have it, look him to get it, and take no other.
TERPENTS.

HBT SHOP. to announce to the
and vicinity that I ly occupied by Waldo

REPAIRING OF AGES,

the work of all who age, in a satisfactory prices.

TURNER.

xtra Quality
STOM SUITS Line of
ing Goods,
R'S.,
Weymouth

DITCH,
K STORE," SQUARE, and Groceries,
RE, &c.
V THE LOWES'
re of Cleveland Satin-uated.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

AT HOBART & WORSTER'S,
LINCOLN SQUARE, - - - WEYMOUTH, CAN BE FOUND A LARGO VARIETY OF FEATHER TURBAN HATS,
At Extremely Low Prices! from $1.25 to $3.00.

These goods were purchased direct from the manufacturer, and are of the best quality and CHOICEST SELECTION.

1882. MILLINERY. 1883.

Ladies of East Weymouth and vicinity will find a good assortment of FALL and WINTER STYLES at the millinery rooms of

MRS. A. A. SALISBURY,
65 BROAD STREET, - EAST WEYMOUTH.

RE-STOCKED.

Having purchased of Mr. Joseph Sherman his Coal and Grain business, I shall keep constantly on hand a full stock of Lackawanna, Shamokin, Franklin and Cumberland

COALS!

PINE AND HARD WOOD, SLABS,

Flour, Grain, Hay,

Straw, Lime, Cement, Brick, Laths, Hair, Sand.
Fence Rails and Posts. Wood sawed and split.

With the LOWEST market prices, FAIR DEALING, and strict attention to business, I hope to merit and would solicit your patronage.

E. A. BIGELOW.

Wharf and East Sts., East Weymouth.
Open from half-past six in the morning until half-past seven Wednesday night closed at six o'clock. Order Box in the Post Office. All orders promptly attended to.

BRAINTREE

Entertainment.
On Thursday evening of last week a very pleasant and agreeable entertainment was held in William's Hall, as previously advertised. There was a good and intelligent audience in attendance, who seemed to appreciate the efforts made to interest as well as entertain. Miss Jessie B. Hogan invited several poems at the opening on the following subjects given her by the au-dienee: Gov. Butler, President Arthur, Love and Revenge, and Happy Courtship, including lessons of patriotism, honest integrity and morality, in every department of life. To the regret of those present she was obliged to leave to take the train for Boston early in the evening. Dr. A. H.
Richardson, of Charlestown, was present and made some very interesting remarks;
and following up a meeting a party entered Boston, and the audience, who had spent about thirty minutes in giving descriptions of what passed in Boston to their chaperon, did so.

Every lady, rich or poor, should be acquainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

PNEUMONIA.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that at the present time it is
one of the chief mortality of the country is attributed
to it. It is now reported to exist in all
parts of the world, and especially in Europe,
where it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease." It is
most dangerous to the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

The fatality of this disease is increased by
the fact that it attacks the lower lobe of the right lung,
and is called "the English Disease."

Every lady, rich or poor, should be ac-
quainted with the name of James Peile's
library for reading purposes. Its
suitability in domestic economy cannot
well be over estimated.

It's Extraordinary Prevalence and
Fatality.

As shown by the statistics from all sections of the country, this fatal disease is approximately increasing so that

FRIDAY, NOV. 24, 1882.

All Around The Hub.

THE MAYORALTY.

The Hub scarcely settled down after the excitement of the contest over the election of a governor and other state officers before it is drawn into another contest over the municipal election. This year as last the democrats have made a strictly partisan nomination. Hon. Albert Palmer,—for mayor, but it is somewhat significant, and a matter of surprise to many, that though Gen'l Butler carried the city by upwards of twelve thousand majority, and though Mr. Palmer was one of his most ardent supporters, the two most influential democratic papers here, the Post and the Pilot, not only do not endorse his nomination, but in no doubtful terms condemn it as unsafe.

Major Green will without doubt receive the nomination of the Citizens' and the Republicans' conventions, and notwithstanding the large nominal democratic majority here on the 7th, it is believed he will be elected, for he will receive the votes not only of many republicans who voted for Butler but also of democrats who feel, as a strong democratic friend said to us recently, "that no greater misfortune could befall the city of Boston than to have it controlled by a strictly partisan city government." We observe that some who have been interviewed who favor the retirement of Mayor Green raise the old cry of improper appointments and great extravagance; but it has lost its force, and we may congratulate ourselves that we shall one more year have a clean, non-partisan city government, emplaced in a great measure of men chosen because they are the proper ones to be chosen.

A happy day would be for the country if other cities could have for their chief magistrate one who was the Citizens' candidate and not the selection of a party convention.

BUSINESS ENTHRALLED.

We think it has been stated that upwards of seventy-five out of every one hundred men who engage in business fall once at least; our impression is that the percentage is still higher than that. Some fall because they naturally have no faculty to either lay or sell; that is they are not adapted to do business on their own account. Many a man is a good mate who would be lost under the responsibility of being made captain. Some few who possess otherwise good business qualities, fall because they cannot comprehend the mysteries of credit. It has been said, and very truly, that any fool can get small goods but that it takes a smart man to get paid for them. But debts have failed more than half a dozen on mercantile. But a large number of men who know not only how to buy and sell and collect, do not know how to keep money after they have accumulated. It by years of hard work. One who knows the people of Boston cannot walk our streets without encountering some individual who years since ranked as one of the merchant princes, but who has been dragged down to poverty by speculations outside of his legitimate business. Such men excite our sympathy, but we know that others who will not learn wisdom by the experience of foolish will follow in their footsteps.

THE CHRISTMAS ST. NICHOLAS.

The great holiday number comes laden with its seasonal freight of mirth and good cheer; and chiefly among its special features is a Christmas story, by Louis M. Alcott, entitled "Grandma's Penny." Other timely features are first, the bright colored frontispieces, —a snow scene, with children, pony and dogs, and an unmitigated Christmas flavor. Then there is a graphic account of a long dog-sledge journey on Lake Winnipesaukee, capably illustrated; a Christmas poem, a clever short story, "The Christmas Fairies," a pathetic little Christmas tale, and two pages of a poem, "The Little Shepherd."

Before the former, there is much that is not a whit less attractive just because it does not happen to be more appropriate to Christmas than to any and every season. The entire number, including the "Departments," is copiously and handsomely illustrated by the cleverest designers for children.

The Royal Mass Ball Horses Charmed and delighted a large audience at the Union church last Tuesday evening, with their aristocratic and harmonious performances of popular size and classical music on their caravan of one hundred and thirty one bells, also fit their role of glee singers presenting "The Three Clappers," "A Little Farm," and other familiar vocal selections. The selections from their programs of bell music were the solo and chorus from "Moses in Egypt," "serenade," "Mandolinata," "Hall, smiling summer," "Home, sweet home," "Last rose of summer," "Rory O'More," march, "Turkish Patrol," in which the strains of an approaching and departing band were splendidly imitated, the gradual dying away of the music until the distance was exquisitely rendered. "Blue bells of Scotland," waltz, "The Showdrop," and "The Sparrows" waltz were very pleasing, while the "Initation of Village Bells and Chimes" was especially interesting to those who have visited the Old World and have the daily tumultuations of the bells of England. In the poika, "The Westminster Chimes," the audience was entertained with a faithful imitation of the striking of the hours on the massive bell of St. Paul's, and it is said that our bell "Big Ben" informed us that it was an exact imitation of the tone of that ponderous one mass of metal. The "Chimes of Normandy" was one of the most pleasing selections of the programme, and the wonderful manipulation of 75 bells in its production was well worth witnessing. The entertainment concluded with the national air, "God save the Queen." Mr. Duncan S. Miller, the conductor, filled up the intervals between the selections by felicitous descriptions of bells of note, and also those by which the company had produced such wonderful harmony.

Business Entertainment.

The pupils of the Franklin school (first grade), E. Weymouth, held a very interesting "Brainte" exercise, in their schoolroom, last Friday afternoon, consisting of declamations from the works of William Cullen Bryant. The exercises not only relieved the tedium of school hours, but was highly interesting and instructive. We append a few of the principal parts.

"Troy Town," "May's Cabin," "Green Mountain," "Walter Smith," "African Chief," Fred Bicknell.

"The Child's Journal," "Ella Bailey," "A. T. T.," "The Story of the Earth," "The Rivulet," "Oscar Hart."

"The Woods," Addie Canterbury.

"The Two Grays," Sted Cushing.

The entertainment was concluded by a concert exercise by the school.

Local Entertainment.

At a regular concourse of South Shore Commandery held Monday evening, Nov. 20, 1882, the following named Sir Knights were installed as officers for the ensuing year, by Sir Wm. Sir G. W. Fay, Grand Chancellor of the Grand Commandery of Mass. and R. I., assisted by Sir Wm. Humphrey as Dep. Grand Senior Warden: Em. Commander, Edward W. Bass; Gen'l, William Fenton; Capt. G. A. Pease; Capt. G. C. Gray; Capt. H. P. Prentiss; Senior Warden, Thomas H. Humphrey; Treasurer, Edmund G. Bates; Standard Bearer, F. J. Fuller; Sword Bearer, David J. Ferrier; Warden, John Nelson; Guards, Davis D. Randall, Nathan A. Breckin and Hiram K. Raymond.

A number of the Masonic fraternity paid a visit to their brethren in Abington, Monday evening, the occasion being the regular visitation of Dist. Dep. Seymour and suite.

Wednesday evening, Dist. Dep. C. W. Seymour, of Hingham, end suite, visited Orphan's Hope Lodge, and installed the officers for the ensuing term.

After a dinner & a fine collation was served in the banquet hall, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant manner.

Farewell Reception.

Rev. D. A. Nordell, having accepted the call to the first Baptist church, New London, Conn., to begin his work there the first Sunday in December, will preach his farewell sermon in the Baptist church here Sunday afternoon.

The church have voted unanimously to dispense with the prayer meeting next Tuesday evening, and instead to tender their pastor a farewell reception, to which all the members of the church and congregation are cordially invited.

For Europe.

Our native artist, Mr. E. Aubrey Ifini, son of Mr. E. Hunt, fireworks manufacturer, who has spent the summer in New England with his family, will return to his London residence the last of this month.

He has spent a large portion of his time in sketching the coast scenery along the New England shore, which he will work into a picture for his English patrons.

Death.

Mr. Leonard Gardner, of the Board of Assessors of Weymouth, has been suddenly called to mourn the loss of his wife, who died last Tuesday morning, after an illness of about a week. The couple had been married 47 years. Mrs. Gardner being a daughter of Mr. Crocker Wilder, of South Hingham, and one of a family of twelve children. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Hewitt officiating.

Dea. Jonathan Hunt, a native of Weymouth, when he resided many years, in Setaukate last Tuesday morning, aged 71, was a son of Asa Hunt Hunt, and had several sons and daughters. He had been married 47 years, Mrs. Hunt being a daughter of Mr. Crocker Wilder, of South Hingham, and one of a family of twelve children. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Hewitt officiating.

Q. A. Field, administrator of the estates of Mr. Albert T. French, announced the sale of the valuable household goods belonging to the estate, to take place next Monday, at 10 a.m. The list will be found in another column, and all who desire to purchase articles of the choicer description at low figures, should not fail to attend.

Expected.

The horse entered as "Newport Boy," on the Weymouth Park track July 4, by Jess W. Smith, of Brockton, has, by unanimous vote of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society, been debarred from racing, on charge that the horse was entered under a false name, the real name of the horse being "Elevator."

Another Good.

It is rumored that the Quincy members of South Shore Commandery are making efforts to have the headquarters of the Commandery transferred from East Weymouth to Quincy. "Finisatio aerber" would not one (genuine) suffice!

Snow.

The ground was pretty well covered last Saturday morning with winter's fleecy garment, and one of our residents, Mr. Frank Blanchard of South Weymouth, had the frankness to sweep his way through the winged snow, and in a snug, like a bird, and came out again with a new and large stock of Fausto Goods, Toys, Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, Fruits, Pies, Cakes, Stationery, etc. Oysters and Hillside Farm Milk as usual. A new feature will be Hot Coffee at 2 and 5 cents per cup. Give him a call.

Important Note.

Mr. Q. A. Field, administrator of the estates of Mr. Albert T. French, announced the sale of the valuable household goods belonging to the estate, to take place next Monday, at 10 a.m. The list will be found in another column, and all who desire to purchase articles of the choicer description at low figures, should not fail to attend.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of "Lo, here the gentle fawn," accompanied by Mr. W. H. Gibbs on the flute, "brought down the house." The harmonious blending of the lady's voice with the instrument was perfect, and is rarely equalled. This lady is as well known to our readers, as that fawf words of praise we might offer would scarcely add to the high appreciation in which she is held wherever her charming voice has been heard. Her singing was simply superb, and received the hearty applause of all.

The event of the evening was the appearance of the unrivaled singer, Mrs. T. P. Lovell, of Boston, who met with a warm reception at the hands of the large audience. Her rendition of

